1. Purpose of your presentation/speech

The purpose of this presentation is to make students aware of computer programming and why they should choose it as their major.

2. The reaction, or action, you want to take place with the audience

I want my audience to choose computer science as their major going into a four year university.

3. Three goals you have set for yourself in this presentation

- Use visual aid
- Speak precisely
- Try to get my point across very clearly

4. A fact that you are aware of concerning this audience, topic, or situation that might impact how you make your presentation

Girls are outright discouraged from technology and computer programming. I am also aware that most people not be computer science major and think you need to be good at math to do computer programming.

5. Information, organization, ideas, or delivery strategies you will feel will really make an impact on the audience

I will show people how computer programming can help them improve their lives. Also, I wrote my very own blog just for this topic so I will be using some of that as visual aid to help deliver my strategies.
